At Pullman Regional Hospital, we heal, inspire, and we care. Your support provides extraordinary care and exceptional comfort when patients need it most. You are the power behind our impact. At Pullman Regional Hospital, we know caring for patients requires cutting-edge medical technology, state of the art facilities, and caregivers who treat all patients as if they were family. Generosity sustains us at Pullman Regional Hospital. Philanthropy means the difference between the maintenance of a great hospital and the evolution of an extraordinary one.

We give to make someone else’s life better.

And when we give, we experience benefits ourselves—including those to our health, longevity, relationships, and economic prosperity. Hundreds of studies show benefits for young and old, well and ill, those who give time, and those who give money. In some cases, the impact is so compelling that giving is integral to clinical treatment and therapy.
August 2017 marked a ribbon cutting, unveiling the new fourth operating room. $1.5 million of the $2.3 million project was raised through the power of philanthropy.

Ed and Beatriz Schweitzer

Always generous to the community, Ed and Beatriz Schweitzer made a leadership gift to help fund the Surgery Expansion project.

“Our hospital has served our family and the entire community so well. We are pleased to do our part to support this important resource.”

—Beatriz Schweitzer

Another leadership gift in support of the Same-Day Services Expansion Project helped fund a 10,000-square-foot addition to increase the number of Same-Day patient rooms from the current 12 to 22. This additional space enhances efficiency and movement for one of the busiest areas of patient care and allows for flexibility to serve each patient at an individualized level.

Funded Through Philanthropy:

- Therapy Pool & ICU Bed (2013)
- 3-D Mammography (2014)
- Heart Health Technology (2015)
- BirthPlace Technology (2015)
- New OR & 4K Technology (2016)
- Same-Day Services Building (2017)

= Totaling $4 Million

“I’m so glad to do this. We want to take care of the people who take care of our family.”—Michael Wysup
Ways to Give

Charitable gifts can generate substantial federal income and estate tax savings. The question is often whether:

1. The gift should be completed during your lifetime (enabling present income tax savings), or
2. The gift should be made at the end of life—a legacy life (enabling future estate tax savings).

Gifts of Grain

By making a charitable contribution of grain or commodity crop, a cash basis farmer may be eligible for the following tax advantages:

1. The donor avoids including the sale of the crop in taxable income;
2. The donor deducts the cost of production, which results in saving self-employment tax, federal income tax, and/or state income tax.

“As a fourth generation farmer on the Palouse, my family supports Gifts of Grain to benefit Pullman Regional Hospital. It’s an easy way to support the hospital and receive a charitable tax deduction.”

—Mike Sodorff

Keeping Kids Healthy & Safe

“As we all know, emergencies rarely happen at convenient times. In many emergent situations, the opportunity to act quickly and get the patient into surgery is the difference between a good outcome and an outstanding outcome.”

—Dr. Ed Tingstad, Orthopaedic Surgeon

Pullman Regional Hospital, The Orthopaedic Center of Excellence, Inland Orthopaedic Surgery & Sports Medicine, Pullman Regional Hospital Foundation and the Washington State University Athletic Training Program have teamed together to provide a Regional High School Athletic Training Program. This first-of-its-kind, collaborative solution is ensuring the safety and wellbeing of more than 750 student athletes by embedding full-time certified athletic trainers in Colton, Garfield-Palouse, Pullman, and Potlatch High Schools.
The Legacy Society

Jack and BettyJo Hilliard

The Hilliards are two of the first members of the Pullman Regional Hospital Foundation Legacy Society. Their planned gift was a way to strengthen their lifelong connections to their community and Pullman Regional Hospital. Both are longtime residents who established their careers and raised their children here. The gift represents all that they have achieved in their lives. It is their legacy of love.

Empowering Women & Children

Since 2015, the Women’s Leadership Guild has been building a tribe of passionate, take-action, community-focused women who want to empower women and children to live better, healthier lives. Through membership contributions and networking events, the guild awards grants to regional non-profits who provide shelter to homeless families, food to children in need, care for the aging and disabled, and support to grieving and orphaned children.
